Welcome to 7th Nordic EUS

Endoscopic ultrasound scanning (EUS) has matured during more than 40 Years and is now fully integrated into modern medicine. EUS is connecting many specialties due to its excellent imaging capabilities combined with ultrasonically guided tissue acquisition and therapy. However, the method is difficult to master and it is still important to focus on ways to improve our skills and to exchange knowledge and learn from masters. The importance of teamwork with endoscopic assistants and pathologists is also of outmost importance to reach perfectness.

Frame of the meeting will be:

- How to learn
- How to diagnose
- How to treat
- How does the future look

There will be 2 parallel sessions, one with endoscopists and one with pathologists. In between the thematic sessions live demonstration of EUS procedures will be performed.
